> Provider's Desktop

FPO

Provider's Desktop – The Provider Desktop serves as the doctor's central information source – containing the information you need each day, including in-office and hospital schedules, tasks and work items and to-do lists. Because you may work your way through several tasks and several patient visits simultaneously, the Desktop maintains open encounters for each patient until you are ready to finalize them. This helps maximize every minute of your busy day.

> WebMD Image Director

WebMD ImageDirector℠ – Intergy EHR's ImageDirector℠ enables you to digitize your paper-based records in stages, including EOB's, referrals, discharges, lab reports, patient insurance cards, ECG/EKG scripts, X-rays, even 3-D and 3-D/4-D images. Thus you build an electronic system as you deal with the paper generated by your practice daily.

INTERGY EHR

Intergy EHR Encounter Note – Intergy EHR's Encounter Note automates the documentation of a patient encounter at the point of care, and adapts to meet the needs of all of the physicians in your practice:
> Support staff may document vitals, chief complaint and Review of Systems initially for the visit with your authorization
> Each entry is user, date and time stamped immediately.
> Documents can be completed using knowledge-base forms or templates.
> Documents can also include free-text information, such as the history of the present Illness, which you can add by handwriting via a tablet PC.

> Your way. Your timeframe. Your opportunity.

You can't afford to continue wading through the mountains of paper it takes to manage your patients' care. You also can't afford to disrupt your practice with an extensive implementation of a complicated new computer system.

> With Intergy EHR® from WebMD, you get the solution you need, in the timeframe that best suits your busy practice.

Intergy EHR has the flexibility to be implemented at your pace and in a way that suits the unique needs of your organization and the individual preferences of each provider. And perhaps most importantly, WebMD also has the experienced, professional staff to guide you through that implementation process, including baselining existing workflow and redesigning workflow to optimize the benefits you can derive from your new EHR system.

Intergy EHR. It lets you go digital – your way.
